

National Weather Service SkyWarn Spotter Training

Are you ready to make a Difference?

Become a trained Storm Spotter for the NWS Boise by completing this training. You can help make a difference and keep others safe by reporting impactful weather to us.

Photo Credit: Lane Abshire Media

Interested in the weather?

Come learn about what products we issue, how thunderstorms develop, and what separates a garden variety storm from a damaging severe thunderstorm.

Why we need SkyWarn Spotters

Our radar and various tools are great at helping us figure out what is potentially going on at a certain location, but it's not perfect. Ground truth is ALWAYS better! This can help us recalibrate to reality and make adjustments. Ground truth helps us know if we are over/under doing it.

Join us

WHAT: The National Weather Service and Ada County Emergency Management are hosting a SKYWARN spotter training.

WHERE: 7200 Barrister Dr, Boise, ID 83704

WHEN: June 2nd, 2026 at 2:00pm MDT

Registration

Register for the training here