Nationwide Emergency Alert System and Wireless Alert System Test

Do you have a cell phone?

On September 20th you'll receive a TEST text message.

This will be a test of the country's wireless emergency alerting system.

The test will sound similar to Amber Alerts many cell phone users receive.

Here's what it will look like on an iPhone and an Android:

iPhone

Android

For more information on the test follow IOEM on FB and Twitter @IdahoOEM

This national test does not involve your local emergency alerting system such as Code Red or ISAWS – or systems that provide severe weather information, and information about significant local events. No action by the public is required.
